Code of Practice

Code of Practice

1. General Provisions

1.1 This Consumer Code of Practice (the 'Code') will help members of the public to choose a professional, competent and ethical organisation to help them make a will, administer the affairs of someone after their death or provide specified related legal services. The Institute of Professional Willwriters (the 'Sponsor') manages this Code and all of its members (the 'Members') must comply with it and there are sanctions for non compliance. Consumers are members of the public (but not businesses) who use the services of Members and are referred to as 'Clients' throughout this document.

1.2 For any matter relating to this Code, please contact:

1.3 This Code covers the preparation and advice relating to the following documents:

1.3.1 Wills or other testamentary instruments

1.3.2 Powers of attorney

1.3.3 Advance directives/advance decisions/living wills

1.3.4 An agreement not intended to be executed as a deed

Code of Practice

1.4 This Code also covers:

- 1.4.1 The administration of estates of people who have died
- 1.4.2 Advice (but not preparation) of documents executed as a deed
- 1.4.3 The storage of documents.

1.5 When sub-contracting or employing persons to provide advice or services that are covered by this Code Members may only use another Member to do so. This does not prevent members from recommending the services of non-Members provided that those services cannot be delivered by the Member and that they are provided in accordance with clause 14.1. Members must provide relevant and effective training to ensure that any person or organisation assisting them in the provision of services covered by this Code are aware of the provisions of this Code, the Member's responsibilities under it and their legal obligations.

1.6 Anyone wishing to become a Member shall submit either a satisfactory Standard Disclosure & Barring Service certificate, or Disclosure Scotland (or equivalent, where available) dated less than 12 months prior to membership, or the information and consent necessary to obtain one, to the Sponsor prior to commencement of Membership.

1.7 Members shall provide the Sponsor with proof that they hold Public Liability Insurance of at least £1million and Professional Indemnity Insurance of at least £2million that covers the areas of business in which they operate that are covered by this Code.

1.8 Members shall display copies of this Code and the related Client Guide at their business premises and shall promptly provide one copy of each (in written or audio format) free of charge upon request.

1.9 Members shall comply with relevant consumer protection legislation including but not limited to:

- 1.9.1 Consumer Credit Act 1974 as amended (where applicable) and shall hold a Consumer Credit Licence if services are provided under the Act
- 1.9.2 Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008
- 1.9.3 The Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013
- 1.9.4 Provision of Services Regulations 2009

Code of Practice

1.9.5 Companies Act 2006

1.9.6 Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999

2. Members are required to keep their expertise up to date

2.1 Members shall provide evidence of their competence acceptable to the Sponsor in all services covered by this Code.

2.2 Members shall complete training approved by the Sponsor annually.

2.3 Providing the conditions specified in 2.1 & 2.2 above have been met and once the Member has made a signed declaration that he undertakes to observe the provisions of this Code, the Sponsor will issue a certificate of professional development annually and valid for one year to each Member confirming all approved training completed. An updated certificate of professional development shall be issued by the Sponsor as and when required.

2.4 Records of all approved training attended by Members shall be held by the Sponsor for a minimum period of 6 years and shall be available for immediate inspection at any time during normal business hours by prior arrangement.

2.5 Members may only provide products or services which are covered by this Code for which they hold a valid certificate of professional development.

2.6 A Member shall not deliberately undertake work which is beyond his competence. In the event that a Member subsequently identifies that work is beyond his competence, he shall immediately withdraw from the transaction and the terms of clause 6.1.5 of this Code shall apply.

3. Members must have the highest standards in business promotion

3.1 Members shall assist Clients in making informed and balanced decisions. Members shall never intimidate, harass or otherwise pressure Clients.

3.2 Members shall not refuse the provision of products or services on the grounds of a Client's sex, race, colour, ethnic origin, religion, belief, age, disability, sexual orientation or transgender status.

Code of Practice

- 3.3 Members shall comply with the legal requirements of the Telephone Preference Service (TPS), Mailing Preference Service (MPS) and Fax Preference Service (FPS).
- 3.4 Members shall not knowingly contact anyone named in any document produced by them or another Member unless:
 - 3.4.1 Such contact is required for the Member to fulfil their contractual obligations to the Client, or
 - 3.4.2 the Client has been advised of their intention in writing and the Client has agreed (ideally in writing), or
 - 3.4.3 the Client has died and executors and/or beneficiaries are being notified, or
 - 3.4.4 the contact is being made on behalf of the Sponsor as part of its regulatory role, and
 - 3.4.5 the provisions of clause 3.3 are complied with.
- 3.5 All advertising shall comply with statutory requirements and any relevant code of advertising including, but not limited to:
 - 3.5.1 British Codes of Advertising and Sales Promotion,
 - 3.5.2 the Independent Television Commission (ITC) code,
 - 3.5.3 the Radio Authority Code,
 - 3.5.4 Phonepay Plus,
 - 3.5.5 the Advertising Standards Authority,
 - 3.5.6 and any other relevant code of advertising or statutory requirements such as the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008.
- 3.6 All business stationery relevant to the provision of services listed in clauses 1.3 and 1.4 ('Relevant Services') and where appropriate, all advertising and marketing (including telephone sales calls) by or on behalf of the Member relating to the Relevant Services should include the membership logo of the Sponsor (or a statement to the effect that they are a member of the Sponsor) and a statement that the Member complies with this Code.
- 3.7 Where VAT or other taxes are applicable, any prices quoted in advertising must include such taxes or specify the amount of tax, or clearly indicate that they are subject to tax at the prevailing rate.

Code of Practice

- 3.8 Where Members advertise products, services or solutions to problems, accompanying prices should be the full amount the Client might reasonably expect to pay them for providing the product, service or solution.
- 3.9 A copy of all advertising material must be supplied promptly to the Sponsor upon request.
- 3.10 The documents made available to a Client by a Member (including websites advertising the Relevant Services) must include information about the options that a Client has to resolve any dispute including the option to seek redress through the Alternative Dispute Resolution scheme (IPWADR) or in the case of a Member who is regulated by a statutory regulatory body the options for redress under that regulatory body.

4. Members must take special care with vulnerable Clients

- 4.1 Clients may be vulnerable for a number of reasons. These include those who are elderly, infirm, with a disability or a learning difficulty, someone purchasing a product or service at a time of illness or distress or someone who struggles to gain a sufficient understanding of the product or service offered to make an informed decision.
- 4.2 Members shall take the necessary effort and time to ensure that vulnerable Clients understand any product or service they propose to provide. Members shall be particularly careful not to take advantage of vulnerable Clients by inducing them to make an inappropriate decision.

5. Members must have the highest standards when dealing with clients and in their business activities.

- 5.1 Members shall act with independence and integrity, maintain proper standards of work and keep the affairs of the Client confidential unless express approval otherwise has been obtained from the Client or unless a disclosure to the National Crime Agency is required because a Member knows or suspects that a transaction may involve money laundering or terrorist financing.

Code of Practice

- 5.2 Members shall retain and process any personal information in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation.
- 5.3 Members shall always act in the best interests of the Client and take reasonable steps to establish to their complete satisfaction that the Client is acting freely, without coercion or undue influence and with sufficient understanding of the product or service to make an informed decision. If a Client cancels a product or service, the Member must make reasonable efforts appropriate to the circumstances to satisfy themselves that any cancellation is the Client's free choice and without coercion.
- 5.4 Members shall provide clients with information about the duties and responsibilities of anyone involved in a document being prepared by them, such as executors, trustees, guardians, attorneys and witnesses to enable them to make an informed choice about the options available for such appointments.
- 5.5 Unless agreed with the Client, when preparing a Will, Members must determine the financial position of the Client, including any Inheritance Tax liabilities on death, his obligations to family and dependants and his wishes regarding distribution of his estate.
- 5.6 Members must not assist Clients in undertaking any activity for which the Client does not have the necessary capacity. Members must have regard to relevant legislation and case law when assessing whether a Client has capacity to make any relevant decision.
- 5.7 Members shall explain any documents that they have provided to the Client's satisfaction. Clients may decline any documents not explained to their satisfaction. In this event they shall be entitled to a refund of any fee paid for the document and for any other advice or documents that would have no value without the declined document. Clients may be required to return all copies and originals of such documents including any previous versions and/or agree to enter into a binding agreement with the Member not to execute any reproduced document based on that declined.
- 5.8 Member shall not make the appointment of himself (or his firm or anyone else connected to him) as an executor, trustee or an attorney a condition of accepting instructions. Before appointing himself (or his firm or anyone else connected to him) as an executor, trustee or an attorney a Member shall provide the client with a written indication of the current fees to complete those duties.

5.9 Members must take instructions from a Client face-to-face, unless it has been identified that the circumstances of the client are low risk and that their requirements are not complex. In cases where face to face instructions are not taken, the Client must be advised in writing of the limitations of the proposed method of communication and of their rights under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013.

5.10 Members must not take Will instructions from a Client which give the Member (or a relative or partner of the Member)

5.10.1 a disproportionate or unjustifiable benefit or

5.10.2 any benefit where a person who has a right to expect provision to be made for them under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 is excluded or inadequately provided for.

5.11 Members must not receive any inducement to deliver a service improperly and shall not offer inducements to others to act improperly and shall act in compliance with the Bribery Act 2010.

5.12 Members must not charge for services covered by this Code which are not described on his fees list.

5.13 Members shall always provide a written receipt for all items received from, or on behalf of, a Client.

6. Clear rights for Clients when a contract is cancelled

6.1 Before the Client has any liability to the Member, the Client must be provided with the following information:

6.1.1 Details of the maximum period in which the Client has the right to cancel all or part of the transaction without any fees becoming payable for any parts cancelled. Unless legislation provides for a longer period this must not be less than 7 days after the Letters of Engagement have been signed, or 7 days after instructions are first taken from the Client, whichever is later.

Code of Practice

- 6.1.2 Details of fees that will become payable or how they will be calculated if a Client cancels all or part of a transaction after the maximum period.
 - 6.1.3 Details of how and where a Client can give notice of any cancellation.
 - 6.1.4 A statement that cancellation will be acknowledged in writing within 14 days of the date of receipt of notice of cancellation along with any refund due.
 - 6.1.5 Confirmation that if the Member cancels some or all of a transaction for any reason, the Client will receive immediate notice in writing along with a refund of any fees due for the cancelled part of the transaction and for any other advice or documents that would have no value without the cancelled part of the transaction. In such circumstances, the Client may, within 7 days of receiving such written notice from the Member, cancel the whole transaction and receive a full refund of any fees paid.
- 6.2 In order to proceed more quickly, a Client can request that any or all of the work requested can start before the end of the maximum cancellation period. In doing so the Member should obtain separately from the Client written acknowledgement of the fact that although he can still cancel before the end of the maximum cancellation period once work has commenced, he may have to pay for any work that was carried out on his behalf before he cancelled in accordance with the reasonable requirements of the agreement.
- 6.3 Members shall not harass clients who exercise their cancellation rights.
- 7. Letters of Engagement must be agreed with the Client and explain the service and the Client's rights. Fees must be clear with no hidden costs.
 - 7.1 Letters of Engagement must be provided to all Clients in writing and agreed by them before the Client has any liability to the Member and before any fees are collected by the Member.
 - 7.2 The Client shall be provided with a copy of the agreed Letters of Engagement.

Code of Practice

7.3 Letters of Engagement must include all of the following except where the Member is regulated by a statutory regulator and the letter of engagement complies with that regulator's rules for the time being:

7.3.1 The name(s) (or job title(s)) and telephone number(s) of person(s) with whom any issues should be raised.

7.3.2 The trading name, address for correspondence and, if any payments are required in advance, the geographic trading address of the Member's business if different.

7.3.3 The governing law and jurisdiction of the agreement.

7.3.4 Details of:

7.3.4.1 the right of the Client to cancel the contract as detailed in Clause 6.1 which must be set out in a separate box headed 'Notice of the Right to Cancel'.

7.3.4.2 A detachable form which contains the trading name and address of the Member and a statement that can be signed by the Client and returned to the trading address to cancel the agreement.

7.3.5 Full details of all fees or how fees will be calculated (or reference to a separate fees list which must always be provided to the Client). This must include:

7.3.5.1 The fees for all services provided by the Member detailing all taxes. This must include fees for updating documents and for any ongoing Client support service offered.

7.3.5.2 Details of reduced fees or discounts offered for bundled products or services, if any.

7.3.5.3 Details of when fees for any products or services (including delivery costs) become payable.

7.3.5.4 The latest date on which the published fees are valid.

7.3.5.5 How payment can be made to the Member.

7.3.5.6 The circumstances in which fees may be increased.

7.3.5.7 When a payment is collected by a Member from a Client in advance of a service being completed to the satisfaction of the Client, details of the procedure for the Client to receive the service that has been paid for if a Member becomes unable to deliver the service.

7.3.6 A statement that the Client is under no obligation to take and pay for any additional products or services unless they are necessary as part of the delivery of an effective estate administration service. Clients' may be required to sign a disclaimer if they choose not to purchase products or services recommended by a Member.

- 7.3.7 Details of the circumstances and procedure when a transaction is cancelled by either Client or Member.
- 7.3.8 Details of the free supervised attestation (signing and witnessing of documents (except oaths) by, or on behalf of, the Client) service provided by the Member and the details and costs of (if any) of any alternative attestation options.
- 7.3.9 A statement confirming the amount of Professional Indemnity Insurance cover to cover claims for negligence on the part of the Member or anyone acting on his behalf and the amount of Public Liability Insurance to cover claims for damage and the consequences of damage caused by the Member or anyone acting on his behalf along with details of the insurance broker, their contact details and any territorial limitations.
- 7.3.10 A statement confirming how long client files will be retained by the Member, which must be for not less than 6 years after the death of the Client unless the Client advises that he has cancelled his document.
- 7.3.11 The timescales within which the Client can expect completion of any work instructed. In the case of all work other than the administration of estates (see clause 13), unless agreed by the Client, documentation shall be ready for attestation by the Client not more than 21 days after the Client has provided all the information required to complete the documentation. If a Member intends to send draft documentation for approval by the Client, the timescales for dispatching the draft documentation unless agreed by the Client, shall not be more than 15 days after the Client has provided all the information required to complete the draft documentation and the completed documentation shall, unless agreed by the Client, be ready for attestation by the Client either not more than 6 days after they have approved the draft documentation or 14 days after the draft documentation has been dispatched to them, whichever occurs first.
- 7.3.12 Confirmation that if the Client has provided all the information required to complete the transaction and the timescales agreed with the Client are not met, the Client can cancel the contract and obtain a full refund of any fees paid or credit of those due, or renegotiate the contract. This does not apply to the administration of estates (see clause 13).

- 7.3.13 Confirmation that if the Member does not correct any error or omission made by the Member without charge within 21 days of written notice by the Client, the Client may have any correction done elsewhere and that any resultant reasonable cost incurred will be borne by the Member.
- 7.3.14 Confirmation that customer service and support is provided to Clients free of charge by telephone on a telephone line that is not a premium rate number on any matter relating to their transaction for a minimum period of 28 days following the completion of work by the Member to the satisfaction of the Client.
- 7.3.15 The scope, conditions, limiting terms, timescales of any ongoing customer service programme (including updates to documents).
- 7.3.16 Details of the existence of the Members 'In House' complaints procedure (see paragraph 15) and how it can be accessed.
- 7.3.17 Details of either:
 - 7.3.17.1 The existence of the Legal Ombudsman scheme and how it can be accessed, if the Member is part of the scheme, failing which;
 - 7.3.17.2 The existence of the Alternative Dispute Resolution Service (IPWADR) provided by the Sponsor and how it can be accessed
- 7.3.18 A statement that the Client can seek other forms of redress instead of, or as well as, those provided under this Code.
- 7.3.19 A statement that it is mandatory that the Member complies with this Code and how free copies of this Code can be obtained.
- 7.3.20 A statement that the Member is a member of the Sponsor together with contact details of the Sponsor to whom instances of non-compliance with this Code should be addressed.
- 7.3.21 Statement for the Client to withhold consent for their details to be passed to the Sponsor to enable it to monitor compliance with this Code and to test levels of Client satisfaction with the Member's service, and/or
- 7.3.22 Statement for the Client to give consent for any information about him to be passed to third parties who offer services that may be a benefit to the Client such as financial planning.

Code of Practice

7.3.23 The website address of a client satisfaction survey that can be completed by the Client to help the Member to improve their business and a statement that paper versions of the survey are available from the Sponsor and from the Member free of charge.

7.4 Letters of Engagement must be submitted to the Sponsor on request.

8. Avoiding fraud by impersonation and Money Laundering

8.1 A Member shall comply with the requirements of the Money Laundering Regulations 2007.

8.2 A Member shall obtain evidence of the full name, residential address and date of birth of every Client and keep records that they have seen such evidence. Such evidence may be provided by a third party provided that the evidence is dated not more than 3 months prior to the date that the Letters of Engagement are signed.

8.3 Under no circumstances shall a Member knowingly take instructions from a third party.

9. Protecting Client's money

9.1 The provisions of this section shall not apply to payments made for periodic payments for the storage of documents where the interval between payments is one year or less and shall not apply to those Members who are regulated by a statutory regulator whose client money rules shall take precedence over this clause 9.

9.2 Members who accept any payment made in advance shall be required to take part in a prepayment protection scheme to the satisfaction of the Sponsor.

9.3 In making any refunds from payments made in advance the Member must only deduct fees that are reasonably incurred and must not deduct any charges or fees that are not referred to in the Letters of Engagement and/or fees list.

Code of Practice

9.4 When a Client cancels a contract, Members shall not delay making any refunds until any documents have been returned by the Client.

9.5 Members shall provide the Sponsor with proof that they have arrangements in place to protect and refund funds held on behalf of a client in the event of misuse or business failure.

9.6 Client money shall be held in accordance with rules to the satisfaction of the Sponsor.

9.7 Only the actual cost of a disbursement (3rd party fees) shall be charged as a disbursement and in no circumstances shall a fee for a disbursement become payable to the Member until the disbursement is due to be paid to the third party or unless the service for which the disbursement applies has already been delivered to the satisfaction of the Client.

10. Making Clients aware of the risk of incorrectly signed and witnessed documents and trying to avoid this happening

10.1 Unless Clients have been identified as low risk, they should be encouraged to have signing and witnessing of documents by them, or on behalf of them, (attestation) supervised and such a service must always be offered at no extra cost to Clients who are arranging documents that are not updates to existing documents. Members may choose to provide this service at their business premises.

10.2 Clients may require the Member to provide an attestation service at the location where instructions were taken. In this event a charge may be made. Supervision must be by the Member themselves or by a competent person acting on their behalf. Unless otherwise agreed, the Client is responsible for finding suitable witnesses.

10.3 When supervised attestation does not take place, Clients must be:

10.3.1 Advised in writing of the importance of correctly attesting such documents and the consequences of incorrect attestation.

10.3.2 Provided with written instructions on the correct attestation procedure.

Code of Practice

- 10.3.3 Provided with a service by post to check that the documents appear to have been attested correctly. There shall be no charge for this service.

11. Making sure Clients are aware when Members are limiting risks

When a Member prepares a document which appoints an executor and/or trustee who can charge for their services and the document also contains a clause which limits the liability of that executor and/or trustee, then the member shall confirm to the Client, in writing, the consequences of the clause.

12. Ensuring long-term protection and management of documents stored for clients

- 12.1 Members who hold documents on behalf of Clients and/or collect payments for the storage of such documents shall keep the Sponsor advised in writing of the location of such documents.
- 12.2 The location of such documents shall either be in a fire resistant and water resistant facility with suitable security on the premises of the Member or in a location with suitable security away from the Member's premises.
- 12.3 Members shall keep the Sponsor notified of arrangements for access to stored documents in the event of the death, prolonged illness, incapacity or absence of the Member or cessation of the members business.
- 12.4 Members shall provide evidence to the Sponsor of sufficient insurance to cover the replacement value of all documents held on behalf of Clients.
- 12.5 Members shall provide copies of all documents produced by them and taken from the Client for safe storage unless otherwise agreed with the Client.
- 12.6 Members shall provide for the return of all documents held on behalf of Clients on written request of Authorised Persons (or their appointee) to an address of their choosing. In the case of a power of attorney 'Authorised Persons' means: The Client (provided that the Member believes he has capacity) or his attorneys acting under the terms of the document. In the case of all other documents 'Authorised Persons' means the Client or his attorney acting under the terms of the power of attorney or, providing the application is accompanied by the client's death certificate, all of his personal representatives who have not renounced or reserved power or in each case their attorneys. Members shall satisfy themselves of the identity of any Authorised Person who is not the Client before releasing any documents to them.

12.7 Any fees charged for complying with the provisions of clause 12.6 shall not exceed one year's fee for storing the documents or the actual cost incurred by the Member, whichever is greater. Where a charge is made, the Member shall also provide for the free collection, of all documents held on behalf of a Client from the Member's business premises on written request from the Authorised Persons.

12.8 Before returning any documents held in storage Members shall be entitled to recover any fees in arrears and any cost of delivery but in all other cases documents shall be returned promptly.

12.9 Under no circumstances shall Members charge fees for the storage of documents for a period beyond 12 months from the most recent date that a fee for such a service was paid by the Client.

13. Setting high standards for administering the estate of someone who has died

13.1 If a Member is appointed as an executor of a Will he shall renounce his appointment if requested to do so in writing by all of his co executors or by all of the residuary beneficiaries capable of doing so.

13.2 Members must produce estate accounts showing all transactions which must be agreed by the personal representatives or if there are no personal representatives independent of the Member, all of the residuary beneficiaries capable of giving agreement.

13.3 Members must;

13.3.1 obtain satisfactory evidence of the executors or administrators whom he is working on behalf of;

Code of Practice

13.3.2 obtain satisfactory evidence of the identity of the deceased and proof of his death;

13.3.3 make reasonable enquiries to ensure that no Will has been written, or that the Last Will (and any codicils) are identified;

13.3.4 make reasonable enquiries to obtain details of the assets and liabilities of the estate;

13.3.5 make reasonable enquiries to obtain details of anyone who may have a claim against the estate, including placing statutory notices as necessary.

13.4 Before accepting estate administration work a Member shall give the executor(s) or the residuary beneficiaries or the administrator(s) an estimate in writing of the timescale for completing the work – and shall notify them in writing within 7 days of becoming aware of any increase in this timescale and the reasons for it.

13.5 Where a timescale is extended by more than twice the length of the initial estimate or is extended more than once, the executors or the administrator(s) will have the right to cancel the transaction. Members shall be entitled to payment of fees and disbursements for work completed prior to cancellation. This provision shall not apply to delays caused by:

13.5.1 the failure of property forming part of the estate to sell or;

13.5.2 by legal action taken in relation to the estate or;

13.5.3 matters that were not apparent at the time the estimate was given.

13.6 Under no circumstances shall Members charge or collect fees for the administration of the estate of a person who has died in advance of the work being carried out and without the agreement of the executor(s) or the residuary beneficiaries of the estate.

14. Introduction of other Products or Services must be for the Client's benefit

14.1 When a Member introduces products or services outside of the scope of this Code, whether by himself or through a third party, he shall advise the Client that the provision of such services are not covered by this Code and how the delivery of such services are regulated, if at all. When introducing other products and services the Member must hold the best interests of the Client as paramount and any benefit they may derive from the introduction as ancillary and they shall make it clear to the Client that there may be other suitable providers of the product or service.

14.2 Clients must be informed of any fee sharing arrangement that may be relevant to the introduction of such other products and services before the Client is committed to them.

14.3 Members must ensure that Clients are informed of any financial or other interest which an introducer has in them being referred to the Member before the Client becomes committed to products or services provided by the Member.

15. Clear channels for Clients for resolution of things go wrong

15.1 Procedures for dealing with matters of dissatisfaction are outlined in a separate booklet 'Making a Complaint' which can be obtained from the Sponsor. Although advisable, Clients do not have to pursue matters of dissatisfaction through these procedures and may pursue other options, such as independent arbitration or court action, at any time if they wish.

15.2 Clients and Members are encouraged to resolve any matters of dissatisfaction informally.

15.3 A complaint is any expression of Client dissatisfaction which the Member is unable to resolve.

15.4 All complaints should be made in the first instance to the Member.

15.5 The Member must communicate with a representative appointed by the complainant in writing.

15.6 Where a Member is regulated by a statutory regulator the complaint procedure appropriate to that regulator will apply.

Code of Practice

- 15.7 Clients who have been unable to obtain satisfactory redress to their complaint through the Member's own internal procedure may refer it further in accordance with the procedures set out in a separate booklet 'Making a Complaint' which can be obtained from the Sponsor.
- 15.8 All complaints, including those made orally, must be recorded and be available for prompt inspection by the Institute during normal working hours. Information recorded must include the name of complainant, their contact details and a summary of the complaint.
- 15.9 Written complaints are required to be acknowledged in writing within 5 days of their receipt by the Member (except when the Member is on holiday or ill, in which case they must be acknowledged within 19 days) together with a written commitment to send a formal, written, response within 56 days of receipt of the complaint.
- 15.10 The Member is required to make available to the Institute, promptly, a full record of the details of all the complaints made in the preceding 3 years upon request.

16. Clear channels for other parties for resolution of things go wrong

- 16.1 Beneficiaries, disappointed beneficiaries, attorneys or personal representatives who wish to make an allegation of negligence against a Member should do so to his business address and in writing.
- 16.2 Members who receive any communication alleging or inferring negligence or wrongdoing should immediately acknowledge receipt of such correspondence and then pass the matter to their Insurers for action.

17. We check to ensure that our Members' clients are happy

At the end of the transaction, Members undertake to advise all of their Clients in writing of the website address where they can submit an online satisfaction survey to the Sponsor and the address of the Sponsor where the Client can obtain a paper version of the survey and shall promptly make available such a paper survey to their Client on their request. The results of the Client surveys shall be in the public domain.

Code of Practice

18. We respect your confidentiality

Officers and employees of the Sponsor are required to respect the confidentiality of any information belonging to a Member that comes into their possession during the provision of the Sponsor's responsibilities.
